Toronto Service to Launch in March 2027, the First by a Japanese Airline

ZIPAIR Tokyo ("ZIPAIR") has decided to launch service on the Narita – Toronto route on March 2, 2027. Tickets for flights through October 30, 2027 will go on sale today, November 12, at 12:00 (Japan time).

Located in eastern North America, Toronto is the largest city in Canada and a leading economic and financial center in North America. Home to a diverse mix of ethnicities and cultures, the city is an attractive destination where a sophisticated urban atmosphere blends harmoniously with abundant nature, including Lake Ontario. In addition to lively professional sports and a wide range of entertainment, it is also known as the gateway to Niagara Falls.
There is strong demand from Japan for business, study abroad, tourism, sports spectating, and more, and in recent years inbound demand from Canada has also been increasing. ZIPAIR will meet this two-way travel demand between Japan and Canada.

The Toronto route will be ZIPAIR's 11th route, following the Kuala Lumpur route, which began operations in October this year.
